S.R. files 15-13, Sl. 192, and 160-12, Sl. 324, in which such repeated bills were sanctioned on the last two occasions, are put up, as also a draft sanctioning these bills as usual.

and the Jaghirdar is pressing for the payment draft Sanctioning is put up.

5. In this connection it is to be noticed that the system of granting advances was stopped in all cases except that of the Jaghirdar of Yelandur after the institution of the new rules in 1901. It is for consideration whether pending the settlement of the question of his title to Excise Rev. the Jaghirdar should above be given advances while it is to be denied to others who may have a 'prima facie' case for toddy revenue (and whose title is not yet settled) and who may be in greater need of money than he. There are about twenty such cases pending in this Branch.

6. The Excise Comr points out that nearly 2½ lakhs has been already advanced to the Jaghirdar and that it is desirable to settle his claim first as considerable difficulty may be experienced in recovering the advance if the case is decided adversely to him.

7 I am not prepared to recommend any revenue advances. There is already a heavy amount of Rs 2,50,000 outstanding as an advance against the Jehangirdar pending the settlement of the question of his right to the Ewan revenues. I cannot understand how these large advances have been sanctioned. Many small made amounts have been refused & the advances in case of these grants are applied for are inconsistent with the declarations and the public. In the revision of the Rules is engaging the attention of Govt. no further advances can be made pending the revenue

Sir

I have the honor to bring to your notice that advance today refund bills of my Jagir have been pending disposal in the Excise Department for over a year and a half and the result is that more than twenty thousand rupees of Jagir revenue are lying idle in the Treasury and undisbursed to the Jagirdar till the receipt in September 1913 of last bill for the quarter ending the 31st March 1913 the practice was to submit each certified bill to Government for sanction quarter after quarter and the result was that with the exception of a pending bill all the rest were being regularly paid for. But now there are as many as six of them due for payment. For over a year and a quarter I waited whether I might still be able to get all or some of them, but all in vain. Hence I venture to beg of you to kindly order prompt submission of the Jaghir today refund bills.

I have the honor to be,
